Volleyball Game Notes, Volume 2, Number 11 — October 31, 2006

This week's matches

The first goal the University of Colorado at Colorado Springs volleyball team had for the 2006 season was to qualify for the Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference Volleyball Tournament.

Mission accomplished. The Mountain Lions earned the No. 7 seed and will face No. 2 Nebraska-Kearney on Thursday at 2:30 p.m. at Silver City, N.M.

Reaching goal No. 2 will be a challenge, though.

Coach Jessica Wood and the Mountain Lions also set as a goal qualifying for the Southwest Regional Tournament. Since UCCS is not currently among the region's top eight teams, it will likely need to win the RMAC Tournament, or at least advance deep enough to get into the region's top eight.

How difficult will that be?

In regular season play, the Mountain Lions were 2-8 against the other seven tournament participants. Magnifying the difficulty is that their first-round opponent, Nebraska-Kearney, has never lost to UCCS in 15 matches.

Despite those facts, Wood and her team are brimming with optimism. A mistake-filled loss to Nebraska-Kearney on Oct. 21 and an embarrassing meltdown at Regis three days later forced the Mountain Lions to take a long, hard look in the mirror.

"The Regis game woke us up," said Caroline Ottino, one of two seniors on the UCCS roster. "They kicked our butt when we played them at their place and that was an eye-opener.

"We had a lot of discussions about it and intense practices."

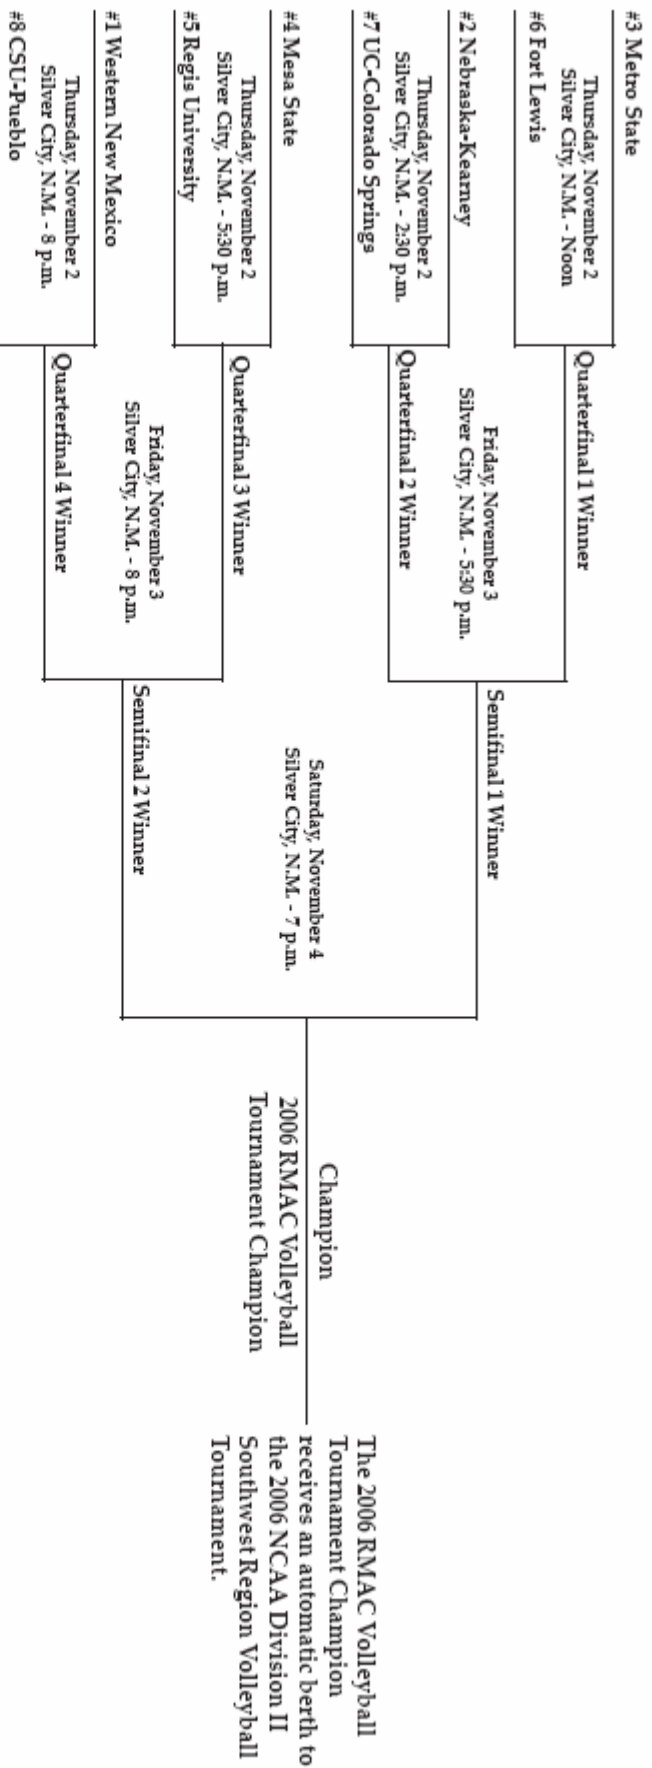

The result of their soul-searching was the most dominant performance of the season — and perhaps of any season — in a 3-0 sweep of Colorado School of Mines (see "Dominant" on Page 3). If UCCS plays like it did against Mines, anything can happen. If the team that was embarrassed by Regis shows up, well, it will have been a long drive for such a short stay.

Should the Mountain Lions upset Nebraska-Kearney, they will face the winner of the Metro State/Fort Lewis match in the semifinals. A win there might very well be good enough to vault UCCS into regional consideration regardless of what happens in the championship match.

Fans who wish to follow the action but don't want to make the 12-hour drive to Silver City can access the play-by-play action via the UCCS Athletics Web site (see "Live Stats" to bring tournament to your home" on Page 3).

Dominant

Anybody who witnessed the Mountain Lions' 3-0 victory over Colorado School of Mines on Oct. 28 knew that it was an impressive show of dominance. Just how impressive wasn't revealed until the sports information crew did a little postgame research.

UCCS' 30-11 victory in Game 1 was the biggest single-game rout since the advent of rally scoring in 2001. The combined score of 60-26 was the greatest two-game dominance over the same period.

Previously, UCCS' most dominant two-game performance was on Oct. 7, 2005 against Colorado Christian. On that date the Mountain Lions took the first game 30-14 and the second 30-16.

UCCS playoff history

The Mountain Lions enter this week's Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference Volleyball Tournament having never won a playoff game at any level.

Since joining the RMAC in 1996, UCCS has qualified for the playoffs four times including this season. In the three previous appearances, UCCS lost to Western State 3-1 (Nov. 9, 2001), Nebraska-Kearney 3-0 (Nov. 12, 2004) and Metro State 3-0 (Nov. 11, 2005).

"Live Stats" to bring tournament to your home

Fans will be able to follow the 2006 Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference Volleyball Tournament play-by-play via the "live stats" function on the University of Colorado at Colorado Springs Athletic Department Web site.

"Live stats" is a feature linked to the computer tracking the statistics as the match unfolds. Scoring plays, substitutions, timeouts etc. are all tracked as well as the cumulative team and individual statistics. Although the data uploads every six seconds, the viewer's screen will refresh only every 30 seconds. The screen can, however, be manually refreshed at any time if the 30 seconds proves to be too long.

"Live stats" will track all seven of the tournament's games.

The Mountain Lions are the No. 7 seed and will face No. 2 seed Nebraska-Kearney at 2:30 p.m. on Thursday.

The link can be accessed directly at: <http://www.uccs.edu/~athletic/vblive/>. It can also be accessed by going to the UCCS Athletics main page (www.uccs.edu/athletic) and clicking on the "live stats" link in the upper right hand corner of the page. Note that the link on the main page will not be available until approximately 30 minutes before Thursday's first match.

All-RMAC team

The 2006 All-Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference teams will be announced Wednesday afternoon which, unfortunately, is later than the deadline of this publication. You will be able to check out the teams at www.uccs.edu/athletic or www.rmcsports.org.

See you next year?

This will be the final edition of the UCCS volleyball notes for 2006 unless the Mountain Lions qualify for regionals. If they do make it, the next edition will be out no later than Nov. 12.

If UCCS misses regionals, we'll see you next year.

Anybody wishing to be added to the distribution list for men's basketball, women's basketball and/or softball can do so by emailing dfitzger@uccs.edu.

Senior swan song

Saturday's game was the final collegiate home match for seniors Jill Wrenn and Caroline Ottino.

"It feels bittersweet," said Wrenn. "It's awesome we won but it's sad that it's our last game at home."

That sadness can be overcome with the satisfaction of the three game sweep over the Colorado School of Mines Orediggers (30-11, 30-15, 31-29).

"There's no better way to go," added Ottino. "Our team came out and we played so well together. It was one of the best team games we've had all season. That's all we could ask for."

Throughout their four years at UCCS, the seniors have given more than anyone could ask for. Both players are near the top of the all-time records for kills, block assists, and games played. Ottino is third for kills with 1,040, third for block assists with 264, and sixth for games played playing in 408 games. Wrenn has had 1,001 kills putting her fourth on the all-time list, she is ninth in block assists with 143, and is seventh in games played playing in 401 games.

Five earn academic honor

Five Mountain Lions were named Academic All-RMAC.

Senior Caroline Ottino earned the honor for the third time. Since freshman and first-year transfers are not eligible, Ottino earned academic All-RMAC the maximum times possible.

Joining Ottino were juniors Laura Meeter, Diane Sheldon and Stephanie Laband and sophomore Jessica Stewart.

UCCS Volleyball Academic All-RMAC recipients:

Name	Yr.	GPA	Major	Hometown
Laura Meeter	Jr.	3.272	Eng./ Elem. Ed.	Colo. Springs, Colo.
Jessica Stewart	So.	3.475	History	Strasburg, Colo.
Diane Sheldon	Jr.	3.219	Nursing	Colo. Springs, Colo.
Caroline Ottino	Sr.	3.461	Chemistry	Pueblo West, Colo.
Stephanie Laband	Jr.	3.241	Communications	Colo. Springs, Colo.

Sheldon shoulders load

Diane Sheldon's shoulder is getting better. That's bad news for UCCS opponents.

Sheldon, who was a nominee for the Patriot League freshman of the year award in 2004 while playing for Navy, came to UCCS with a lingering shoulder injury. She finally relented to surgery in March, and has been on the long, arduous road of rehab ever since.

Over the past eight matches, though, her shoulder looks just fine.

On Oct. 28, Sheldon hit a career-high .480 against Colorado School of Mines, registering 13 kills with only one hitting error on 25 attempts.

In fact, three of her four best hitting performances with at least 10 kills have come since Sept. 30. She hit .353 with 16 kills against Chadron State on Sept. 30, then followed that with a .368 performance on 11 kills against Colorado Christian on Oct. 14. Her previous career high was .375 against Fort Lewis (12 kills) on Sept. 16, 2005.

Not counting the Mountain Lions' win over New Mexico Highlands, a match in which she played very sparingly, Sheldon has been dominant since Sept. 30. Over the nine matches, the Colorado Springs Christian School graduate has averaged 3.59 kills per game, well above her 2.72 season average, while posting a sparkling .278 hitting percentage.

She's also added 16 blocks and nine service aces.

Mending the error of their ways

A big part of the Mountain Lions' recent winning ways has been the team's reduction of errors. For instance, UCCS had averaged 8.4 hitting errors per game over its first 12 matches (49 games) but has reduced that total over the past 15 matches (50 games) to 6.8 hitting errors per game.

"We've been working a lot on out of system balls – keeping them in play and making smart shots," said junior Andrea Weedman after the Mountain Lions' win over New Mexico Highlands on Oct. 6. "(We want to) be smart with the ball. If the shot's not there, do something better with it than hitting it into the net."

That emphasis on making the smart play has carried over to categories other than hitting. Over the first 12 matches, UCCS averaged 2.4 service errors per game compared to just 1.9 over the past 15. Likewise, reception errors have been reduced from 1.6 per game to 1.2 per game and blocking errors have dropped from 0.6 to 0.5.

The Mountain Lions' 13 hitting errors against Colorado Christian on Oct. 14 was the fewest since Oct. 8, 2005 against Regis, when the team had only 10

Play the odds

When it comes to playing RMAC opponents, the Mountain Lions' results have been oddly predictable. When UCCS plays teams with a worse record, the Mountain Lions have gone 10-0. When the opponent has a better record, UCCS is 1-8.

Weedman becomes top ace

Andrea Weedman, who has already caused a lot of work for the keepers of the UCCS volleyball records book, is at it again. The junior from Scottsdale, Ariz., is now the school record holder for career service aces with 114. This last week Weedman passed Joy Blake (1990-92) and took sole possession of the UCCS record.

Ironically, one of the players she passed on her way to the record was current assistant coach Stephanie Shalosky, who recorded 111 aces from 1998-2001.

Setters of attention

A big factor in the Mountain Lions' recent winning ways has been the improved play of setters Jessica Stewart and Cortney Weedman. One way to quantify that improvement in by evaluating their setting percentages; this measures the number of sets that subsequently become kills.

Because most schools do not yet track this statistic, the evaluation must be limited to home matches and is therefore imperfect. It does, however, give a reasonable basis upon which to evaluate.

Over the past 15 matches, during which UCCS had posted a 11-4 record, Stewart and Weedman have combined to get kills on 36.3 percent of their sets. In the season's first 12 matches, that percentage was 32.7.

Stewart has showed remarkable progress, improving from 31.7 percent to 34.9 percent.

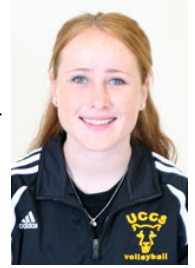

For the season, Stewart is averaging 6.58 assists per game while compiling a 32.9 assist percentage in matches during which that statistic was tracked. Weedman has averaged 5.19 assists with a 35.3 percentage.

Fear Fehringer

Heidi Fehringer has had a pretty typical freshman season. The product of American Falls (Idaho) High School has seen limited playing time this season playing behind veteran middle blockers Brooke Akers and Caroline Ottino. Fehringer has seen action in just 20 games over 11 matches, recording 14 kills and 10 blocks.

But with Ottino in her senior season, Fehringer is a key part of the Mountain Lions' future. If her recent production is any indication, that future is bright.

In five October appearances, Fehringer has recorded nine kills and boasts a .300 hitting percentage. She has also participated in five blocks.

UCCS Weekly Volleyball Notes

UCCS has best ever road hitting performance

UCCS' .366 hitting percentage against at Colorado Christian on Oct. 14 was the best road mark ever posted by a UCCS volleyball team.

It was also the Mountain Lions' best overall mark since hitting .389 against Southeastern Oklahoma State on Aug. 27, 2004. UCCS' all-time best hitting percentage was .407 against Southwest Baptist on Aug. 24, 2001. Both of those matches were at neutral sites. The best home mark was .349 against Fort Lewis on Sept. 14, 2001.

Hit parade

The University of Colorado at Colorado Springs volleyball team hit a season-high .366 Saturday in a 3-0 (30-19, 30-18, 30-21) win over the Colorado Christian Cougars at Lakewood.

Eight Mountain Lions registered four or more kills and all but one hit .294 or better. Leading the way for UCCS was Diane Sheldon with 11 kills, followed by Brooke Akers (nine) and Andrea Weedman (seven). Jill Wrenn, Caroline Ottino and Lindsey Myers each added six kills, while Stephanie Laband and Heidi Fehringer had four each.

Neither Ottino nor Laband had a hitting error, allowing them to log percentages of .750 and .667 respectively. Wrenn came in at .455, while Akers hit .444, Fehringer .375, Sheldon .368 and Myers .294.

Sweep shortage

UCCS' win over Chadron State on Oct. 20 was only the team's fourth 3-0 victory of the season. The other three came against Colorado Christian on Oct. 14, Western State on Oct. 7, and Colorado Christian on Sept. 22.

That figure is far below normal since Jessica Wood became coach prior to the 2004 season. In Wood's first year, nine of the Mountain Lions' 15 wins came by way of a 3-0 sweep. This past season, nine of 16 wins were sweeps.

"We were taking some mental breaks which cost us a game here and there," said Wood. "But we're over that now."

Illustrating Wood's point is the fact that each of the Mountain Lions' past three wins have been 3-0.

On the reverse side, the Mountain Lions have only been swept three times.

Lots of options

Opponents must have a difficult time scouting the Mountain Lions, or at least figuring out where to concentrate their defense. That's because, on any given night, anybody can lead the UCCS offense.

Diane Sheldon, who has led the Mountain Lions in kills on nine occasions over the first 27 matches, has proven to be the most dangerous. Next comes Andrea Weedman who has led the team in kills five times and tied for the lead once. Also Brooke Akers, who leads UCCS in kills for the season, has been the leading scorer in five matches and has tied for the lead three times.

Fellow middle blocker Caroline Ottino has been the team's top scorer three times and tied for the lead once.

Stephanie Laband is also a factor, leading the team once and tying for the lead once. So balanced has the scoring been that Jill Wrenn, who is fourth all-time at UCCS in kills, has not led the team in scoring in a match this season and has tied for the lead only once.

Four-gone conclusion

A dramatic five-game loss to Metro State on Oct. 13 ended the Mountain Lions' season-best, four-match winning streak.

The Mountain Lions fell well short of last season's top streak of seven matches, which UCCS did from Sept. 2 to Sept. 23. A loss at New Mexico Highlands stopped that streak just one short of the all-time school record win streak of eight, set in 2001.

UCCS' longest winning streaks of each season:

Season	Longest Streak	Record
2001	8	22-9
2005	7	16-13
2004	5	15-14
1993	5	19-15
1991	5	23-14
2006	4	11-10
2000	4	10-14
1994	4	10-12
1999	3	10-20
1989	3	11-19
2003	2	5-25
1997	2	7-18
1995	2	6-26
1992	2	11-17
1990	2	13-19
2002	1	4-24
1998	1	4-26
1996	1	3-30

Big digs

Can you dig it? Andrea Weedman and Laura Meeter can.

Weedman passed Leslie McKenzie's mark of 1149 career digs on Sept. 23 and now sits in the No. 2 spot on the UCCS all-time list. Weedman now has 427 digs this season and 1322 for her career.

Meeter, meanwhile, pass McKenzie's mark on Oct. 20 and now sits No. 3 on the all-time list. Meeter has 499 digs this season and 1222 for her career.

Weedman and Meeter's next target is the school record holder Melissa Clark, who posted 1478 digs from 1992-95.

Block party

The Mountain Lions have 210 blocks this season, 17 of which Brooke Akers knocked down solo. Of the 193 that remain, Akers has participated in 94, or 48.7 percent.

Add fellow middle blocker Caroline Ottino to the mix and the duo has participated in 78.2 percent of the Mountain Lions' blocks for the season.

Follow the Mountain Lions at: www.uccs.edu/athletic

High five

The Mountain Lions have a 4-3 record in five-game matches this season. That marks a big improvement over 2005, when UCCS was 3-6 in matches that went the limit. In 2004, the first season under the current coaching staff, UCCS was 2-2 in fifth games.

Prior to Wood's arrival, going to a fifth game usually meant the deep six for UCCS. In 2002-03, the Mountain Lions were a dismal 2-9 in five-game matches.

Homesick

Because of the implementation of the East/West Crossover Tournaments for the 2006 season, the Mountain Lions have only three home matches remaining. Counting the four home matches played because UCCS hosted the Mountain Lion Invitational to kick off the season, the Mountain Lions will play only 10 home matches this season.

Only twice has UCCS been host to fewer matches. In 1994, the then-Gold had nine home matches. It should be noted that they played only 22 matches total that season. The other time was in 1989, the program's first at the intercollegiate level. That season UCCS hosted only six matches.

Weedman sees 20/20

Andrea Weedman notched her second 20-20 match of her career on Sept. 9 against Colorado State-Pueblo, when she had 22 kills and 21 digs.

The 22 kills were her highest total since Nov. 2, 2004, when she had 23, also against Colorado State-Pueblo, and was only the fifth time in her career that she notched 20 or more.

Weedman had only one previous 20-20 performance. On Oct. 23, 2004 she had 21 kills and 20 digs in a four-game losing effort at New Mexico Highlands.

The following are the only occasions during which a UCCS player notched at least 20 kills and 20 digs in a single match:

Name	Date	Opponent	Kills	Digs
Andrea Weedman	9/9/06	Colorado State-Pueblo	22	21
Andrea Weedman	10/23/04	New Mexico Highlands	21	20
Eliza Hoerner	10/15/99	Chadron State	20	25
Eliza Hoerner	9/24/99	Mesa State	22	21
Melissa Clark	9/28/94	Metro State	22	21
Melissa Clark	10/21/94	Metro State	25	22
Melissa Clark	9/10/93	Abilene Christian	22	36
Melissa Clark	11/19/92	Colorado Christian	25	28
Melissa Clark	10/20/92	Colorado Christian	20	22

Killer instinct

With 159 kills on the season, Jill Wrenn climbed past Audrey Nelson (975 kills from 2000-01) and into fourth on the career list with 1001. Caroline Ottino, meanwhile, has registered 267 kills, giving her third place on the career list with 1040.

Both have their sights on second-place holder Brenda Brown and her 1096 kills. The UCCS record holder is Melissa Clark (1992-95) with 1517 kills.

Hitting .400

Through the first 27 matches, middle blocker Brooke Akers has hit .400 or better seven times. In three of those instances, she had at least 14 kills.

So why is that significant?

During the 2005 season, a Mountain Lion player hit over .400 with a minimum of five kills on only 24 occasions. Raise the qualifier to 14 kills and UCCS cleared the bar only three times (Kelley Angel did it twice and Jill Wrenn once).

Akers had 21 kills with a .444 hitting percentage in the season opener against Southeastern Oklahoma State and 15 kills with a .440 percentage against Barry. More recently, she hit .538 with 14 kills against Adams State. Akers has also hit .400 or better against Grand Canyon (five kills, .417), New Mexico Highlands (nine, .400) and Colorado Christian (nine, .444).

Myers, Fehringer steal the show

Lindsey Myers and Heidi Fehringer put on quite a show on Oct. 6 against New Mexico Highlands.

With UCCS leading 26-20 in Game 3, coach Jessica Wood saw an opportunity to get Fehringer, her freshman middle blocker, a little game action. Fehringer and Myers responded by combining for three blocks over the next four points. Fehringer finished the match with four block assists and two kills while Myers had six block assists and a pair of kills.

Myers, a junior from Winter Park, Colo., has been particularly impressive over her past six matches. She has accounted for 32 kills on 85 attempts for a .294 hitting percentage. Myers also has ten block assists, two solo blocks and eight assists over that span.

Fehringer has also made the most of her limited playing time behind veteran middle blockers Brooke Akers and Caroline Ottino. In her past two matches, Fehringer has eight kills without one error on 17 attempts (.412 percentage).

How may I serve?

Cortney Weedman put on a dominant serving display against Chadron State on Sept. 30, posting a career-high five aces. But the aces were the less significant part of the story.

After dropping Game 1, the Mountain Lions trailed 4-2 in Game 2 when a pair of Diane Sheldon kills sparked a 6-0 run. It was 17-10 when UCCS put together a 6-0 run and never looked back. Weedman was serving during both Mountain Lions' runs.

The freshman from Scottsdale, Ariz., was serving again when UCCS went on a 7-0 run in Game 3 to grab a commanding 25-14 lead. A pair of kills by Lindsey Myers helped UCCS close the game.

In Game 4, Weedman served five- and four-point runs.

Add them together and Weedman served during UCCS runs of seven, six twice, five and four.

Weedman and fellow setter Jessica Stewart added 23 and 26 assists respectively.

Akers nabs second all-tournament honor

Middle blocker Brooke Akers made it two-for-two as far as all-tournament teams are concerned. The junior was named to the all-tourney team at the Grand Canyon Cactus Classic, which was played Sept. 1-2 in Phoenix. Akers was also named to the all-tournament team at the Mountain Lion Invitational the previous week.

Stewart, Akers named all-tournament

Jessica Stewart and Brooke Akers were named to the 2006 AmeriSuites/ Mountain Lion Invitational all-tournament team on Aug. 26.

Stewart had a tournament-high 177 assists for the Mountain Lions, who finished the tournament with a 2-2 record. Akers, a junior transfer from the U.S. Air Force Academy, added 58 kills, a .243 hitting percentage and 13 blocks – all team highs.

Also receiving votes for UCCS were Andrea Weedman, Caroline Ottino and Diane Sheldon.

Fort Lewis' Nicole Schwab was named the most valuable player after posting a tournament-best 85 kills and hitting a spectacular .412. The Skyhawks also took the team title with a 5-0 record.

The all-tournament team was chosen through a vote of the participating coaches, who were not allowed to vote for players on their own team.

The Pentagon connection

Mountain Lions coach Jessica Wood scored a major coup a year ago when Diane Sheldon opted to transfer out of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., to UCCS. Sheldon had been one of the Midshipmen's top performers, ranking second on the team with 2.49 kills per game and earning a nomination for the Patriot League freshman of the year award.

So imagine Wood's delight when Brooke Akers decided to transfer to UCCS from the United States Air Force Academy. All Akers did for the Falcons a year ago was lead the team in kills (330), hitting percentage (.228) and blocks (92).

For Sheldon, who was second on the Mountain Lions with 321 kills in 2005, choosing UCCS made geographic sense. After all, prior to going to the Navy she starred at Colorado Springs Christian School — right across the street from the UCCS campus.

Akers choice was less clear. She attended Desert Hot Springs High School in California and had no previous Colorado Springs connections. During her two years at the Air Force Academy, however, she established roots in the Pikes Peak Region deep enough to make her want to stay.

So Wood now has star players from both the Navy and the Air Force. Kind of makes you wonder who at West Point might be casting an eye towards UCCS.

Aloha also means hello

Among the new faces on the UCCS volleyball team is Monique Blando, who transferred from Division I Alcorn State. The sophomore also hails from Lahaina, making her the first Hawaiian to play volleyball for the Mountain Lions. An incomplete persual of the historical rosters of other programs revealed that there never has previously been a native Hawaiian compete in intercollegiate athletics at UCCS.

But while Blando had no predecessors from the Islands, she is nonetheless not alone. Nancy Hoist, a native of Captain Cook, Hawaii, will be playing for the UCCS women's basketball team this season after transferring from Eastern Kentucky. In addition, the softball team added freshman catcher Tasha Pagdilao, who was a multi-sport star at Lahainaluna High School — which is also Blando's alma mater.

All of which has the UCCS Athletic Department saying "mahalo."

Steel and Silver update

The men's golf team defeated Colorado State-Pueblo at three tournaments, the Northwest Region Fall Head-to-Head tournament, the RMAC Invitational and the Grand Canyon Invitational to boost UCCS' lead in the 2006-07 Steel and Silver rivalry series to 5-2.

The Mountain Lions won the inaugural rivalry series between the schools 27-18. Two points are awarded for each athletic competition between the schools except for men's golf and women's softball. Because there are more head-to-head contests in those two sports, only one point is awarded per contest.

The scoring system is as follows:

SPORT (number of competitions this year): Points
VOLLEYBALL (1/year plus playoffs): Two points each match.
SOCCER (2/year plus playoffs): Two points each match.
WOMEN'S CROSS COUNTRY (RMAC and Regional only) Two points each meet.
MEN'S BASKETBALL (2/year plus playoffs): Two points each match.
WOMEN'S BASKETBALL (1/year plus playoffs): Two points each match.
MEN'S GOLF (Undetermined number but usually four): One point each head-to-head.
SOFTBALL (4/year plus playoffs): One point regular season, two points playoffs.
ACADEMICS: Five points for the Athletic Department whose student-athletes had the highest GPA for that school year (Fall and Spring semesters combined).

Family ties

Athletics teams often use “family” as a metaphor for the close-knit bond that forms between teammates and their coaches. For the 2006 Mountain Lions volleyball team, however, “family” is also a literal term.

Senior Caroline Ottino and sophomore Marie Ottino, who are sisters from Pueblo West, Colo., return for their second year together at UCCS. Joining them this season is freshman Cortney Weedman, whose sister Andrea is a junior for the Mountain Lions.

Can you dig it?

Among the noteworthy numbers posted by Mountain Lions players in 2005 was a duo of diggers. Andrea Weedman set a new single-season school record for digs with 526, 60 better than the previous mark. At the same time, Laura Meeter added 422 digs, good for fifth on the all-time list.

Short commute

Making a college choice involves many factors. For two UCCS players, the length of the commute wasn't one of them.

Juniors Laura Meeter and Diane Sheldon both graduated from Colorado Springs Christian School, which is across the street from the UCCS dormitories.

More additions from Division I

The 2005 Mountain Lions got a huge boost with the arrival of two transfers from NCAA Division I schools. Diane Sheldon arrived from Navy, while Stephanie Laband came to UCCS by way of Stetson.

So what does coach Jessica Wood do for an encore? She brings in two more.

Joining the UCCS volleyball team for 2006 are Brooke Akers, a big middle blocker from Air Force, and Monique Blando, an outside hitter/defensive specialist from Alcorn State.

Big show of support

The 2005 season was precedent-setting not only for the team's success on the court, but also for the fan support that helped bring that success about.

The 402 fans that saw the Mountain Lions play Colorado State-Pueblo at the U.S. Olympic Training Center on Nov. 2, 2005 represented the largest home crowd ever to witness a UCCS home volleyball match.

It was the second time UCCS fans had set a new record for attendance in the same season. The 330 fans that crowded into the Lions' Den on Oct. 21 was the largest crowd in school history prior to Nov. 2. The previous high was 226 against Southern Colorado on Sept. 12, 2002.

In addition, the Mountain Lions averaged 220 fans per home match, which topped the previous high average of 181 in 2002.

The power of youth

Although she's entering her second season as the head coach of the UCCS volleyball program and served as an assistant for two seasons prior to that, Mountain Lions coach Jessica Wood still owns the distinction of being the youngest coach in the Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference.

Wood and Colorado State-Pueblo's Emily Asanovich both graduated high school in 1998, but Wood was born Feb. 26, 1981, while Asanovich was born March 21, 1980.

Even dozen

With their 12th Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference victory, the 2005 Mountain Lions surpassed the 2001 team for the most conference wins in school history.

The 2001 Mountain Lions, coached by Shawn Garus, posted an 11-8 RMAC record (22-9 overall) and went into the playoffs as the No. 7 seed. UCCS lost its only playoff match in four games to eventual RMAC champion Western State.

Several other UCCS volleyball teams had winning conference records prior to the school joining the RMAC in 1996. The Colorado Athletic Conference, however, never had more than eight members, meaning that even with a home-and-away series with each school, there were only 14 conference matches played each season.

Mountain Lions chosen fourth in East

The UCCS volleyball team was selected to finish fourth in the East Division in the Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference's annual preseason coaches' poll.

The Mountain Lions will be playing in the East Division for the first time in 2006. UCCS had been in the West Division but switched when Fort Hays State left the RMAC and Western New Mexico joined the conference.

Defending champion Nebraska-Kearney was chosen to finish first, while runner-up Metro State was tabbed to take second. Colorado Mines was picked third in the East, followed by UCCS, Regis, Chadron State and Colorado Christian.

“I'm not surprised,” said UCCS coach Jessica Wood. “There are a lot of strong teams in the (East Division).”

Mesa State was chosen to win the West Division.

Badger Broerman

Nicknames come from many an unlikely source. That being the case, freshman Sarah Broerman may be forever tagged after UCCS visited Hays, Kan., to play the Fort Hays State Tigers. Let UCCS trainer Brian Hardy tell the story:

“We were in Hays and we were looking around the arena before the match started. Sarah looked at one of the boards and it said ‘Fort Hays State Backers’ and she thought it said ‘Badgers.’ Then she looked at the tunnel their athletes run out of and, of course, it was a tiger. She questioned why they would have a tiger tunnel if they were the Badgers and that's where it started.

“We joked that the badger tunnel was too expensive so they had to settle for a tiger.”

UCCS
Head
Coach
Jessica
Wood

In her first two seasons as the coach of the University of Colorado at Colorado Springs volleyball team Jessica Wood led the Mountain Lions to their first RMAC Tournament berths since 2001. Having accomplished that, she now sets her sights on a loftier goal: to get UCCS' first-ever playoff victory.

The Mountain Lions finished 16-13 in 2005 with an even more impressive 12-7 conference record. UCCS lost six of its first seven matches and faded to drop the final four of the season. In between, the Mountain Lions fared a 15-3 mark that has confidence high going into 2006.

When UCCS compiled a 15-14 record in 2004, it was one of the more successful inaugural coaching seasons in recent memory. The Mountain Lions managed an amazing 10 ½ game improvement from the previous season.

Wood, who at 25 is one of the youngest collegiate coaches in the nation, served as the Mountain Lions' assistant coach for the 2002 and 2003 seasons. She came to UCCS in 2002 to complete her degree in History, a goal she accomplished in the spring of 2003, and is currently in the Master's program in Education.

For the past two summers, Wood has been chosen to help coach the prestigious Rocky Mountain Region High Performance team.

As coach of the Colorado Junior's 14s Club in 2003, she led the team to a regional championship and an 11th-place finish at the USA National Championships. In 2004, her team placed fifth at nationals and in 2005 they placed 13th.

Wood had a successful playing career at Division I Murray State. She began her college playing career auspiciously, being honored as the Ohio Valley Conference's All-Newcomer team in 1998. She followed that up by being chosen second-team All-Ohio Valley Conference in both 1999 and 2000. She finished her career at Murray State by being named the Ohio Valley Conference scholar-athlete of the year in 2002. After college, Wood was invited to try out for the USA National A2 team.

Wood starred at Calhan High School in Calhan, Colo., from which she graduated in 1998. She played two seasons of club ball with the Colorado Cowgirls, making the All-Region team in 1996. She then played for the prestigious Matchpoint Volleyball club, making All-Region in 1997 and 1998, and captaining her team in 1998. She was named All-American in 1997. Wood also ran track in high school and was the Colorado Class 2A state champion in the 100-meter dash in both 1997 and 1998.
